. . . until the last one of us has gone home . . .

From Morning—

Here are the junior class officers: Wayne Narris, President; Fred Wehrly, Vice-President; Alice Mae Lay, Treasurer; and Sandra Jordan, Secretary.

Senior President Phil Young confers with the other officers—Bill Silvers, Vice-President; Martha Teeters, Treasurer; and Kay Sue Frakes, Secretary.

Duane Theurer, representative from General Motors, speaks to a career day group interested in mechanics.

The day gets off to a flying start with activity period. We attend committee meetings, club gatherings, and work on special class projects. Every corner of the balcony seems to have its group.

Then, off to first period class we go.

Miss Byfield's English II class decorates the bulletin board for Valentine's Day.

Mr. George Glentzer, second semester teacher of commerciol subjects, shows Bob Bond how to clear the tabs.

Phil Young and Dick Meeker bring to life the "Lay on, Macduff!" scene from Macbeth.

Academic and commercial subjects, agriculture and industrial arts, home economics and driving—we go from class to class throughout the day. We may change a tire one hour, bisect an angle the next, and conjugate a Spanish verb the next.

Through Classes –

Right, Judy Miller, Esther Iliff, Nancy Harper, and Merikay Malott practice serving a luncheon in foods class.

Below, Mrs. Poindexter oversees Linn Hummel and Phyllis Strack as they dissect fish in a biology class.

Mr. Gashert watches Wallace Wiley try out the new driving car as Jerry Strausburg, Gary Ireland, and Bill McAbee look on.

Mr. Mullins explains a bookkeeping problem to Sandra Bisel. Her table-motes are Thelma Thompson, Imogene Franklin, and Phyllis Wolford.

Berna Deane McBride and Jay Hudson write their vocabularies on the board in second year Latin.

Tom Wehrly and Phyllis Carle watch while Mr. Bair (retiring after forty-six years of teaching) corrects an arithmetic problem.

May we take this means, Mr. Bair, of expressing our appreciation to you for your fine contribution to PHS — not only in classes, but also as an efficient business manager for our plays and other money-making projects. By your example of a gentleman, you have taught us much besides math.

Best wishes, Mr. Bair. We hope you enjoy lots of hunting and fishing in your leisure.

Right, below, a panel in U. S. history class discusses "Do American Teenagers Have Too Much Freedom?"
Belaw, many af us da much af our studying in the library.

To Evening —

Stay in line, kids! There'll be a Typhoon for you.

Above, the big night—remember those butterflies in your stomach?

Below, students aren't the anly ones who have lots of paper work.

Mr. George West, Secretary, Mr. Harry Theurer, Treasurer, Mr. D. S. Weller, Mrs. Hugh Ronald, President, Mr. Glenn Hutchens, Mr. Myron Freeman, and four architects (backs to camera), discuss plans for a new school.

Board of Education

A capable, public-spirited group of people comprise the Portland-Wayne Township Board of Education.

We are honored to have our local President, Mrs. Ronald, elected as President of the Indiana School Board's Association. She attended the national meeting held at Atlantic [redacted] bruary.

[redacted] nitectural firm of McGuire [redacted], of Indianapolis, was employed to help study the building problems of Portland, determine what the next unit shall be, and design it.

Mr. Theurer was recently re-appointed for a four year term.

Although faced with the problem of teacher shortage, the board was fortunate to secure capable teachers for all city schools. New high school faculty members this year were Miss Barbara Byfield, Mr. R. Dale Harrod, Mr. Conrad Mullins, Mrs. Mary Jo Poindexter, and Mrs. Marguerite Van Dyke, who taught half-time at the Junior High.

Superintendent

We enjoy our contacts with Mr. Weller and admire him as a man who handles efficiently the tremendous responsibility of running our schools.

D. S. Weller

Sports

This year the cheerleader committee came up with something new—a homecoming celebration complete with floats, queen, honor team, and dance.

Much credit goes to Pat Warnock, general chairman of the committees who spearheaded the project. In spite of the rain, which poured down in bucketfuls, over 6,000 people watched the parade of 30 floats.

Homecoming

Cheerleaders Ann Linder, Patty Kegerreis, and Jeannine Mangold keep our spirits high.

A big moment in the celebration came at half time. Results of the contest for queen had been kept strictly hush-hush until Beth Sherman, junior, stepped forward to receive the honor of reigning over the 1955 homecoming.

Also honored at half time were the undefeated, untied, unscored-upon Panthers of 1945.

Football

Coach Bill Goshert

The 1955 football Panthers enjoyed an impressive season under the expert coaching of Bill Goshert. Howard Berry was assistant coach, and John Conley, 1952 P.H.S. alumni and student teacher from Ball State, coached the freshman team.

From the opening kickoff against Fairmount to the closing touchdown with Bluffton, the spirit of the squad and fans was high. At every home game, special half-time activities—Jr-Hi Night, Band Night, and Parents' Night—kept up our pep. The big homecoming game with Hartford City drew an estimated 2,500 spectators out into the rain to watch the Panthers come from behind (with less than 2 minutes to play) to squeak out a 9-7 victory over the big Airedales.

The team selected as honorary co-captains Bill Silvers and Art Kohler, and at the post-season banquet voted Dick Elmore and Jerry Strausburg the most valuable players. Wayne Norris, Bill Silvers, and Fred Pensinger made the all-conference first team; and Dick Elmore, Jerry Strausburg, and Fred Martin, the second team. Bill Silvers, high-scoring halfback, was chosen on the sports writers' all-state team.

Football Squad—Back Row: Ireland (st. mgr.), Strausburg, Schlosser, Trobridge, Snyder, Williams, Elmore, Pyle, Starr, Runyon, Rathbun (st. mgr.), Middle Row: John Conley (st. mgr.), Coach Bill Goshert, Pensinger, Binford, Farber, Martin, Meinerding, Norris, Runkle, Ass't Coach Howard Berry. It was another good season for the Panther trackmen with a record of 4 wins and 4 losses. The Thinlies' 99-10 romp over Decatur was one of the most lopsided scores compiled in our track history.

Two new school records were set: one by Tom Freeman in the half-mile, which broke his own record; and the record set by Reuben Hedges in the shot put, which broke his brother Adlie's record.

Because of bad weather and other conflictions, the Panther baseball season was cut to nine games as compared with sixteen last year. The 7-2 record turned in by the team was one of the best in this area.

Hugh Strohl and Larry Poole led the Panther hitting attack with averages of .420 and .413. Poole, Black, and Van Skyock each had home runs. Williams, Strausburg, and Black did the hurling, with Williams tossing a beautiful one-hitter against Winchester.

Silvers beats out a hit to first, as the umpire watches closely.

Activities

Seriously considering the problems of the Student Council are the advisers — Mrs. Longley (sponsor), Mrs. Cheek, Miss Parks, Mrs. Zuercher, and Mr. Smith; and (standing) the officers — Beth Sherman (secretary-treasurer) and Dick Meeker (president).

Student

Again this year the Student Council was responsible for many worthwhile projects in our school. Activities began in September with the annual freshman mixer. During the year the council sponsored a locker clean-up, outside clean-up, courtesy week, lunch milk sales, fan busses, convocation and auditorium programs, the single-fund drive, and noon sock-hops.

Among the varied programs sponsored by the auditorium committee were Charles King, baritone; the Powells, with their travelog of the Panama Highway; the Poe Theatre; and the Royal Scotts. Students participated in the observance of United Nations' Day and Lincoln's birthday and furnished the music for other programs. Among the monthly religious convocations planned by the convocation committee, the Easter program was especially impressive.

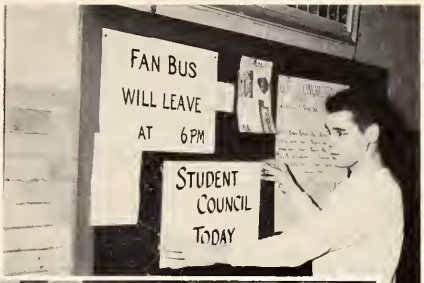
The talent show, discontinued since 1954, was presented again this year on March 9, and netted a neat sum for the treasury, as well as uncovering some heretofore unknown student talents.

Ronnie Hummer, Marilyn Jack, Melinda Kessler, David Schramm, and Philip Young represented P.H.S. at the 13th annual Purdue student legislative assembly and debators' conference. David received the honor of being named an outstanding representative.

A three-way student exchange, a new project, was carried on with Winchester, Hartford City, and Dunkirk. Starting with convocation, which featured all-student participation, the representatives of each school sat in on the classes of the students who had gone from P.H.S. to their schools. Redkey, who has no student council, a th the hope of organizing one in the near future. During a noon luncheon the guests, officers, exchange committee members, and faculty advisors exchanged suggestions for the improvement of their councils.

Five delegates attended the state convention on April 21 in Richmond and brought back many worthwhile suggestions. The council also hopes to send delegates to the national convention in Toledo, Ohio, in June.

Said President Dick Meeker, "We think the council has had a good year." And we all think so, too.



Vice-president Hugh Strohl tacks up the reminder of the next meeting.

Anxious for the success of their particular cammittees, the chairmen clear all plans through the council for best results: Melinda Kessler (convocation), Elizabeth Starr (single-fund), David Schramm (ways and means), Kay Sue Frakes (auditorium), and Marilyn Jack (orientation).

Council

Y-Teens

With a membership of 207, the largest in the history of the club, the Y-Teens had a successful year. A large sailboat of blue and white, entered in the homecoming parade, typified the theme of the year—"We Sail On." The freshman party and initiation brought all the girls together for their first social meeting. The dads' party featured a carry-in supper with entertainment by the speech class, who gave their version of TV's "I've Got a Secret."

While the fall dance was a "Jack-o-Lantern Jump" complete with witches, spooks, and masqueraders, the spring dance, always the highlight of the year, was a beautiful "Spring Fantasy."

Door pieces of evergreen branches for each classroom gave our school a festive air at Christmas time, and the girls again collected clothing for the Crusade for Children.

Helpful to the girls themselves was a series of three meetings: grooming, by girls who attended beauty school; personal improvement, by the Patricia Stevens Finishing School; and a fashion show.

Y-Teen, as it is a part of the Y.W.C.A., also stressed religion in the movie "One God" and in a panel from Purdue representing different faiths, races, and nationalities.

The year's program concluded with a combined party for mothers and seniors.

Committee chairmen coordinate plans for the year: Joy Moody, Avanelle Rippey, Suzanne Abromson, Susan Beard, Beth Sherman, Shirley Braun, Alice Whittington.

Starting from a small membership, the Hi-Y Club built up its organization to more than sixty. Money-making projects included the annual faculty ball game, February 9, and the concessions at two home basketball games. (Black derby hats, white shirts with colored sleeve bands, and supersalesmanship put this over with a bang.)

The gym was a real "Winter Wonderland" for the Club's annual Christmas dance, and special entertainment by an amateur magician (but good!) from Defiance, Ohio, (courtesy the Lions' Club) properly awed us.

Films and games added interest to the regular meetings, and detailed plans for future service to the school were made. The year ended with a senior party and the awarding of letters to Bob Bailey, Bill Boughman, Chuck Bragg, John Browne, Lanny Brubaker, Howard Hill, Keith Kochersperger, [illegible]ve Kropp, Dave Marsh, Dick Meeker, [illegible]rles Meinerding, Dave Rathbun, Dick Ri[illegible]nd Darrel Williamson.

The Future Farmers of America began their club activities early in the summer with an ice cream social, followed by the summer district meeting and work on their three rented farms. A state workshop at Purdue and the local workshop for officers and sponsor, held annually at Dunes Park, helped the boys work out details for the year's projects.

The club sold garden seeds during the fall, and from November 1 to December 15 the boys were busy killing pests for the annual pest contest. Prizes for collecting the most points were won by Jimmie Miller, Ernie Imel, Jerry Morehous, and Milo Miller.

A television program, "How I Got Started In Farming," was presented over WOWO. A money-making project was the selling of front license tags for automobiles. The annual parent and son banquet was held on March 16. The club entered the contests held at the district meeting at Roan.

Ronnie Hummer was awarded a $25 savings bond for winning a blue ribbon in the sheet metal contest. The farm mechanics award went to Larry DeBoy; and the farm electric, to Herbert Stratton.

Below, top picture, Herb Stratton, Joe Wills, and John Zimmerman put finishing touches on the sign for the F.F.A. float in the homecoming parade.

PHSpirit

The P.H.Spirit endeavors to live up to all that its name implies—a reflection of the spirit of P.H.S. The staff members record the best that is said and done in our school. It is their business to record outstanding activities and interests of students for the student body, and they strive to catch the lighter as well as the darker moods; but above all, it is the policy of the paper to give an accurate portrait of life in P.H.S.

Everyone looked forward to the newsy articles and sparkling columns which the Spirit always featured.

Typhoon Staff

Offset—a new process this year. Instead of the letterpress method of book production used by the Typhoon since its first volume in 1924, the staff this year decided to go off the deep end and experiment a little.

Offset (for those of you who are interested) uses no copper engravings and no letterpress to print the written material—just one process which makes a plate of a whole page of pictures and copy at one time. Like it? (Or can you tell the difference?)

The four salesmen—Chuck Bragg, Barbara Ware, Elizabeth Gagle, and John Logan enjoy friendly rivalry to see that not one prospect is left unsold.

Presiding at her typewriter is Mary Lou Champ, through whose capable hands all copy eventually passes.

A typical chorus class tunes up before singing.

There was never a silent moment in Room 8. Chorus classes began at 8:15; and all during activity period, first hour, and sixth hour, Mr. Harrod put the choristers through their daily paces. The first male vocal instructor in the history of P.H.S., Mr. Harrod is liked by all the many students in the department.

Chorus

As an extra-curricular activity of the regular band, the dance band group filled a place in the social activities of all P.H.S. students. They played at all the after-games dances at the Youth Center, for the freshman mixer, for Y-Teen and Hi-Y dances, and also numerous social functions in the community.

The fifty [redacted] the Robed Choir sang at various school and community affairs including the Kiwanis Community Sing, the EUB Church, and baccalaureate. They included in their repertoire both secular and religious numbers.

A girls' triple trio sang at a BPW party, the Y-Teen dad's party, the Hi-Y Christmas dance, and the February convocation.

Junior Play

Inner Willy looks disgusted and Willoughby registers shock as Marybelle screams!

…in Storm," a comedy about the hilarious difficulties of a young man (David Schramm) with his conscience, was almost as side-splitting for the cast as it was for the capacity audiences who saw it on the evenings of November 3 and 4. Rehearsals almost broke up with hysteria at the antics of Inner Willy (Chuck Calhoun) and the dead-pan monosyllables of Marybelle (Sally Naas).

Stage and light helpers were Patty Kegerreis, John Robbins, Mark Stump, and John Zimmerman. Sandra Jordan and Marjorie Sanders did the make-up, and Mr. Settle was play director.

Senior Play

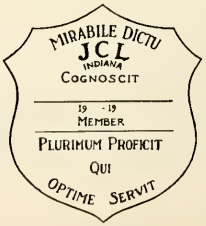
J.C.L.

Linn Hummel, John Plummer, and John Jaqua join the line for refreshments.

Members of Junior Classical League have fun with Latin. Roman patricians rub elbows with toga-clad slaves, and meetings that open with the ceremony of feeding corn to the sacred chickens for a favorable omen from the gods wind up with potato chips and cokes down in the kitchen!

When the goddess Victoria (Annelle Rines) crowned a gladiator dressed in purple and white (Tom Kennedy), while another gladiator (Billy Zuercher, wearing the black and gold of Hartford City), lay defeated at the other end of the float, the J.C.L. entry in the homecoming parade won a prize.

Below is the design for a membership card which the P.H.S. J.C.L. submitted in a contest held by the state organization. It won the contest! It is now the official design.



Guarde Vd. ese hombre!

Spanish Club

"Los Conquistadores de Español" (the conquerors of Spanish), the new club organized to learn more about the bull fights, "piñatas", hat dances, and historical background of Spain and Mexico was set up under a group of four officers and an executive council composed of class representatives. Janie Montgomery was President; Melinda Kessler, Vice-President; Sally Naas, Secretary; and Gloria Cheeseman, Treasurer. Marjorie Sanders, Diane Kinsey, and Jay Hudson made up the Executive Council.

Biggest event of the year was a hilarious basketball game between the "Fabulous Faculty" (lady teachers) and the "Super Señoritas" (Spanish club girls).

The arrival of club pins (shown above) and a fiesta with a banquet featuring tamales, tartillas, and enchiladas concluded the year.

In Memoriam

CRYSTAL CHEEK

Teacher of Commercial Subjects
in Portland High School, 1945-56

The following is a portion of a memorial service presented by a student during convocation on Wednesday morning, April 18, 1956.

When Mary of Bethany broke the box of precious ointment and poured it on Jesus' head, it was an act for which no one else saw any occasion: the disciples said that it was a waste. But Jesus commended Mary for her act of devotion, and said that whereever His gospel was preached "this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her." Our Lord is pleased when He sees any of us doing what Mary did — not being set on this or that selfish desire, but being abandoned to Him.

Such a life of service and devotion was that of our teacher, Mrs. Cheek.

Her students found in her a most considerate and understanding teacher. She was one who worked without conflicts with faculty and students alike. She was always ready to render service in an efficient and unselfish manner.

How unassuming in our midst she stood
Or spoke in grateful praise!
What grace of Christian womanhood
Was in her gentle ways!

She kept her line of rectitude
With love's unconscious ease;
Her kindly instincts understood
All gentle courtesies.

For still her gracious living meant
No duty left undone;
The heavenly and the human blent
Their kindred loves in one.

The dear Lord's best interpreters
Are humble human souls;
The story of a life like hers
Is more than books or scrolls.
